Runners taking wrong route due to maliciously changed signs (Thought to be aprox 11.3 miles)
Runners known to be following lead car and so taking correct route (correct distance) Real 1st 2nd & 3rd Duplicated number

Wrexham AAC apologies for the disappointing events at the 2012 Wrexham half marathon: Peter Norman, as he always does on race day, was up as first light checking and marking out the course for the event. You can imagine his surprise when driving the lead car he saw one of his signs pointing the wrong way!

Peter at this point corrected the sign. You can further imagine his horror when further around the course he caught up with runners who he knew should be behind him.

It is evident that immediately after Peter had corrected the direction sign someone with malicious intent had for a 2nd time changed it.

Wrexham AC appreciate that all of you, like us, are very annoyed and frustrated by these actions as we know how hard you all train and how important an accurate time is to you. Some of you have travelled many miles to be with us and this we really appreciate and we can understand that you will be particularly frustrated.

The results published are the finishing line record in order of finishers. We have indicated for some of the early finishers those we believe were misguided and those who completed the full distance. After that we have no way of verifying who went which way. Hopefully you will have an idea from your recorded time if you were significantly quicker than expected. One runner who knows he went the wrong way reported that his Garmin logged the short route as 11.3 miles hopefully this will give you a measure of your performance on the day.

Peter Norman will try and work out the age group prize winners and will send these out in the post as soon as he is able. If you believe you are a prize winner then please call Peter, likewise if on the results you appear to be a prize winner and you know you did the short course then again please contact Peter so that the rightful winner may receive the award.

Once again we apologise and hope that the actions of one malicious individual did not completely ruin your day
